What is PREVIEWS?

PREVIEWS is part magazine, part catalog—a "mag-alog" of all comics and pop-culture merchandise found at your local comic shop.

We've broken down the product listings by easy-to-understand sections: Comics & Graphic Novels; Books; Trading Cards; Toys, Statues & Models, and more.

Each month, you'll find detailed listings for almost every comic book and pop-culture product that will be available in comic shops in 2 months. So, if you're looking at the April issue of PREVIEWS, most items will be in comic shops sometime in June.

This month's featured creator is...

CAMILLA D'ERRICO

Camilla d'Errico is a Vancouver based Pop Surrealist painter and creator/artist of Camilla d'Errico's Burn and Tanpopo. She has drawn Avril Lavigne's Make 5 Wishes, Sky Pirates of Neo Terra, and her cover art can be seen on Elephantmen #29 and #41, and MySpace Dark Horse Presents Vol. 3. With a manga-inspired twist to her work, her West-Meets-East style appeals to classic comic art fans, as well as the manga loving tween/teen audience. Her art is seen on merchandise, clothing, accessories, and in the new artbook from Dark Horse, Femina & Fauna: The Art of Camilla d'Errico.

Camilla has enjoyed working with clients like Mattel, Disney, and her favorite, Sanrio, where she contributed an original painting for both their 35th Anniversary of Hello Kitty, as well as the 50th Anniversary of Sanrio. She has been working on bringing her passion project, Tanpopo, to life as a series of 10 books plus a merchandise program. Recently she was one of 8 artists who were asked to reinterpret the new Lara Croft for a digital art exhibition, which was a challenging and fulfilling project. Her participation in projects like Neverwear, where she collaborated on a Neil Gaiman short story, "How to Talk to Girls at Parties" by illustrating an original poster, in addition to anthologies like the recent Transmetropolitan Art Book, Womanthology, and Fractured Fables, have been highlights in a career marked by art and comics. She often contributes original art and live painting panels to the CBLDF events and auctions.

Currently, Camilla is working on Tanpopo, new Sky Pirates of Neo Terra web comics, as well as gearing up for a solo exhibition to be held in Tokyo in May 2012 in the new Leonardo Da Vinci Museum.

Camilla d'Errico, what are you currently reading?

Camilla often reads manga, and some books she's reading now include IDW's Kill Shakespeare, Image's Elephantmen, and Oni Press' One Soul. She would also suggest David Mack's Kabuki series, and Image's Green Wake. Of course, she also recommends reading Burn, and Sky Pirates of Neo Terra!

CONFRONT EARTH'S GREATEST THREATS THIS MARCH AS THE AVENGERS ASSEMBLE

On May 4th, Marvel Comics' mightiest heroes — Captain America, Thor, Iron Man, Black Widow, Hawkeye, and the Hulk — arrive in cineplexes the world over in the long-awaited Avengers film from fan-favorite writer/director Joss Whedon (Serenity). Preceding the film's release, Marvel will launch a new ongoing Avengers series, Avengers Assemble, from the all-star creative team of Brian Michael Bendis and Mark Bagley that stars the film's valiant champions this March!

The Marvel Universe faces a new threat that goes by a classic name — Zodiac! Twelve villains, with powers and identities based on the twelve astrological symbols of the Zodiac, endanger the world. Captain America assembles a special Avengers team uniquely qualified to deal with this unique threat — Captain America, Iron Man, Thor, Hawkeye, Black Widow, and the Hulk — and the challenges they face will cement their legend forever as the World's Mightiest Heroes!

Brian Michael Bendis is no stranger to the Avengers, having guided their adventures through the pages of New Avengers, Mighty Avengers, and Avengers over the past seven years. Nor is Mark Bagley a stranger to super-teams, having launched the New Warriors and the Thunderbolts for Marvel Comics and drawn Justice League of America for DC Comics. Together, Bendis and Bagley had an acclaimed and award-winning run on Ultimate Spider-Man, and they continue their legendary association with the ultimate super-team comic, Avengers Assemble #1.

Arriving in stores in the weeks leading up to the highly-anticipated release of Marvel Studios' Avengers film, Avengers Assemble #1 will whet the appetite of Marvel Comics fans for this summer's blockbuster Avengers film while also providing the perfect jumping-on point for movie audiences anxious to discover what the Avengers are all about! Plus, with its sensational creative team of Bendis and Bagley continuing their legendary collaboration, comics fans are guaranteed action, adventure, and heroics this March as only Marvel Comics can provide as the Avengers Assemble!

ADVENTURE TIME

THE MAGICAL WORLD OF ADVENTURE TIME COMES TO DVD

IN A GALAXY TORN APART BY WAR, TWO LOVERS STRUGGLE TO RAISE A FAMILY

One of the most acclaimed comic book writers of the last decade is Bryan K. Vaughn. Winner of multiple Eisner Awards for his work on Vertigo's Y: The Last Man and Ex Machina and Marvel Comics' Ultimate X-Men, nominated for a Hugo Award for Y: The Last Man, and acclaimed for his work on Marvel Comics' Runaways, Vaughn brings his creative vision to Image Comics this March with his new science-fiction series, Saga!

In a galaxy rent asunder by a never-ending war, a child is born. Her parents are Marko and Alana; Marko has ram-like horns and elven-like ears, Alana has tiny bat-like wings. They want nothing more than to share their lives and raise their child, but how can they find peace amidst an endless war?

Joined by artist and co-creator Fiona Staples, Bryan K. Miller's Saga features the deep characterization, rich worldbuilding, and intricate character drama that is the hallmark of his work. A Mature Readers series, Saga will push the boundaries of what comics can achieve, and this science-fictional drama will make its way to you this March!

On sale May 30	b&w, 296 pages

A blistering take on media control in a repressive future America! DMZ and The Massive creator Brian Wood launched an all-out assault on the comics medium in 1997 with Channel Zero, an influential, forward-thinking series that combined art, politics, and graphic design in a unique way. Touching on themes of freedom of expression, hacking, cutting-edge media manipulation, and police surveillance, it remains as relevant today as it did back then.

The Channel Zero collection contains the original series, the prequel graphic novel Jennie One (illustrated by Becky Cloonan), the best of the two Public Domain design books, and almost fifteen years of extras, rarities, short stories, and unused art. Also featuring the now-classic Warren Ellis introduction and an all-new cover by Wood, this is the must-have edition. See where it all began!

MARVEL CLASSIC CHARACTER—

FANTASTIC FOUR #4: THE THING

On sale Mar 28

5 1/4" tall, limited to 650 numbered pieces
Packaged in its own tin box, with a pin-back button and character booklet
$49.95

Benjamin Jacob "Ben" Grimm, better known to the world as the Thing, has become one of the best-known comic-book characters of all time. Created by Stan Lee and Jack Kirby, he pilots into space on the fateful mission that results in the creation of the Fantastic Four. Transmogrified into an orange humanoid monster, the Thing nevertheless retains his sense of humor, his bright blue eyes, and a big ol' heart of pure gold. His trademark battle cry, "It's clobberin' time!" is world famous.

This ongoing character lineup presents these characters just as they originally appeared, but the statues feature a rougher surface texture, visible seam lines, and other slightly distressed aspects, such as paint-application techniques. Sculpted by Yoe! Studio.

Another vampire/zombie comic? Really, Vertigo?
Trust us. This is different.

In post-Victorian England, nearly everyone of the upper classes has voluntarily become a vampire to escape the lower classes who are all zombies.

Into this simmering cauldron is thrust Chief Inspector George Suttle, a lonely detective who's got the slowest beat in London: investigating murders in a world where everyone is already dead!

But when the body of a young aristocrat washes up on the banks of the Thames, Suttle's quest for the truth will take him from the darkest sewers to the gleaming halls of power, and reveal the rotten heart at the center of this strange world.

THE NEW DEADWARDIANS is brought to vivid life by fan-favorite writer Dan Abnett (RESURRECTION MAN, LEGION LOST) with art by newcomer I. N. J. Culbard (At The Mountains of Madness).

DOMINIQUE LAVEAU: VOODOO CHILD is the story of a half-breed, outcast and heir to the Voodoo Queenship of New Orleans, if she can live long enough to claim her birthright.

New Orleans is the most haunted city in America: a town of centuries-old ghosts and newly drowned spirits; where vampires, voodoo spirits and loups-garous make their home. Ruling over this all are the powerful Voodoo Queens, whose influence stretches into politics, business and crime as they maintain a delicate balance between the mortal and supernatural worlds.

But in the aftermath of Katrina, all that has changed, for someone or something has murdered the Voodoo Queen and most of her court. The number one suspect is Dominique Laveau, a grad student at Tulane who is about to discover that her entire life has been a lie. Now Dominique must forge alliances with those out to kill her while seeking to uncover the truth behind the royal murders, as she is ultimately forced to deal with a destiny she could never have imagined.

Voodoo Child is a new monthly series written by Selwyn Seyfu Hinds, former editor-in-chief of The Source magazine, award-winning author, journalist and TV producer, with art by Milestone Media co-founder Denys Cowan (THE QUESTION) and covers by Rafael Grampá.

"What causes terrorism?"

After his fiancée dies on 9/11, this question plagues Aaron Goodman. It makes him give up his career as a doctor to become an interrogator at Guantanamo Bay. It leads him to meme theory, as he wonders if there could be a cold science behind the conversion of people into suicide bombers. And ultimately, it brings him to Ahmed, a Gitmo prisoner who promises the answers to all of Aaron's questions, and in the process, he'll take Aaron from Guantanamo Bay to the jihadist camps in Pakistan, back to Ground Zero in New York City.

But where do Ahmed's real loyalties lie? From where did that loyalty spring? To answer that, Aaron will have to reexamine everything he believes and stare down one of the most compelling questions of the 21st century.

MacArthur Prize fellow and novelist Jay Cantor (Krazy Kat, Great Neck) joins artist James Romberger (THE BRONX KILL) for this unforgettable and pressingly relevant graphic novel.

Frank Frazetta! He's been rightfully called "The Grand Master of Fantasy Art"! But, it's little known that Frazetta also conquered other worlds in the Golden Age of Comics, as shown in his Donald Duck-ish funny animal and hilarious hillbilly comic book stories. Even those aware of this wonderful Frazetta art don't know the extent–this book is a whopping 256 page, large-format pages!

Did we mention ferocious, terrifying wolves and swampland creatures in the plethora of animal stories illustrations as only Frazetta could draw them? There's also lions and tigers and bears–oh my!–before Frazetta's famous paintings captured the same subjects.

But wait, there's more! (As they say.) You'll see the roots of the Frazetta Girl in the sexy Kathy teenage girl adventures. And there's the hot Daisy Mae-look-alike, Clarabelle, in the hillbilly hi-jinks stories of her beau, Looey Lazybones (Holy Li'l Abner!).

The introduction is by the famed cartoon director Ralph Bakshi who well knew Frazetta and closely worked with him when they co-produced the animated feature film, "Fire and Ice." Bakshi shares rare insights, anecdotes, photos and Frazetta drawings. And Bakshi has created a special painting of Frazetta and himself as funny animals for this beautiful hardcover full-color coffee table book! Frank Frazetta's Funny Stuff is edited and designed by Eisner award-winner Craig Yoe.

In September 2011, artist and firebrand, Molly Crabapple, locked herself in a hotel room, covered the walls in paper and filled 270 square feet of wall with art. The project, called "Molly Crabapple's Week in Hell," is a wild ride through the imagination of an artist stretching herself to the limits of her endurance. Gorgeous photographs by Steve Prue show Ms. Crabapple's sheer talent, audacity, and ambition at work. From the first stroke of pen upon paper to the glorious 360 view of a room full of art, this book chronicles the trials and joys of the Week in Hell, including visits from some of New York City's artistic luminaries, absinthe parties, live models, and musical accompaniment.

Y: THE LAST MAN writer BRIAN K. VAUGHAN returns to comics with red-hot artist FIONA STAPLES for an all-new ONGOING SERIES! Star Wars-style action collides with Game of Thrones-esque drama in this original sci-fi/fantasy epic for mature readers, as new parents Marko and Alana risk everything to raise their child amidst a never-ending galactic war. The adventure begins in a spectacular DOUBLE-SIZED FIRST ISSUE, with forty-four pages of story with no ads for the regular price of just $2.99!

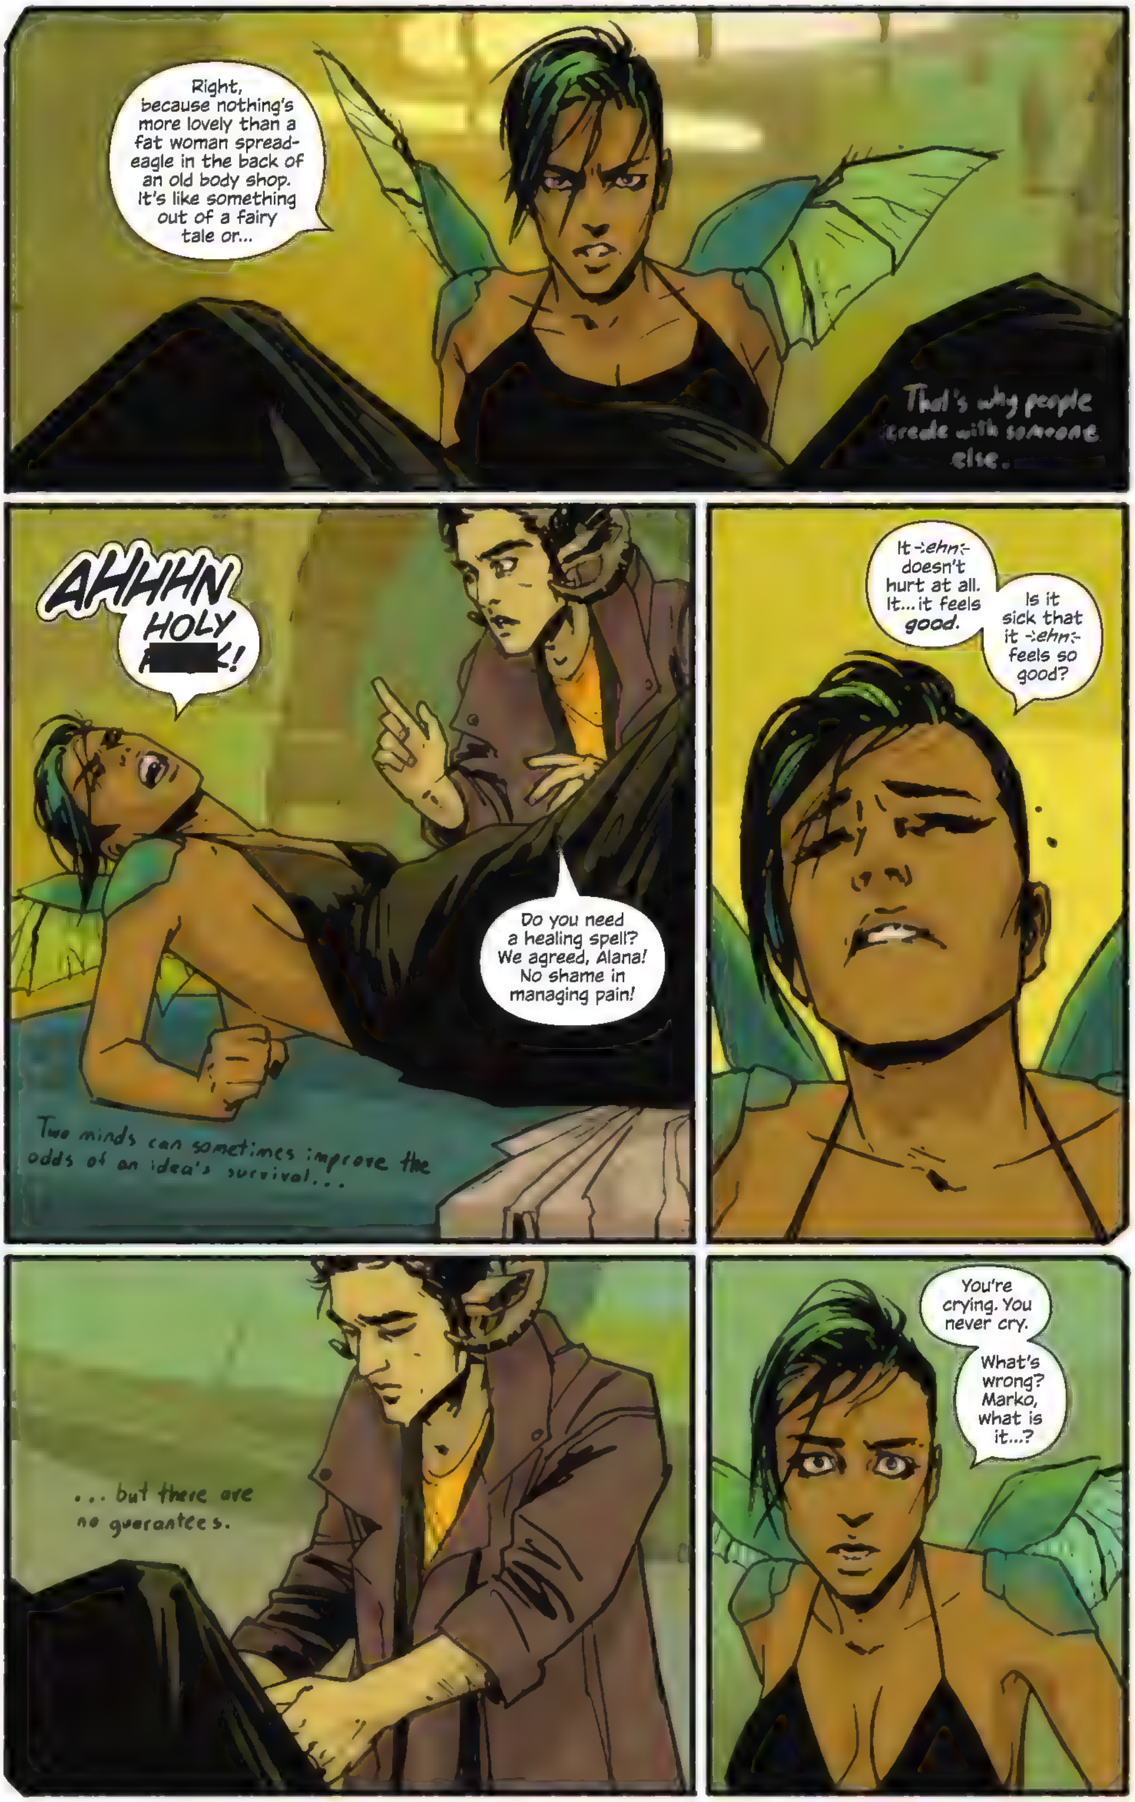
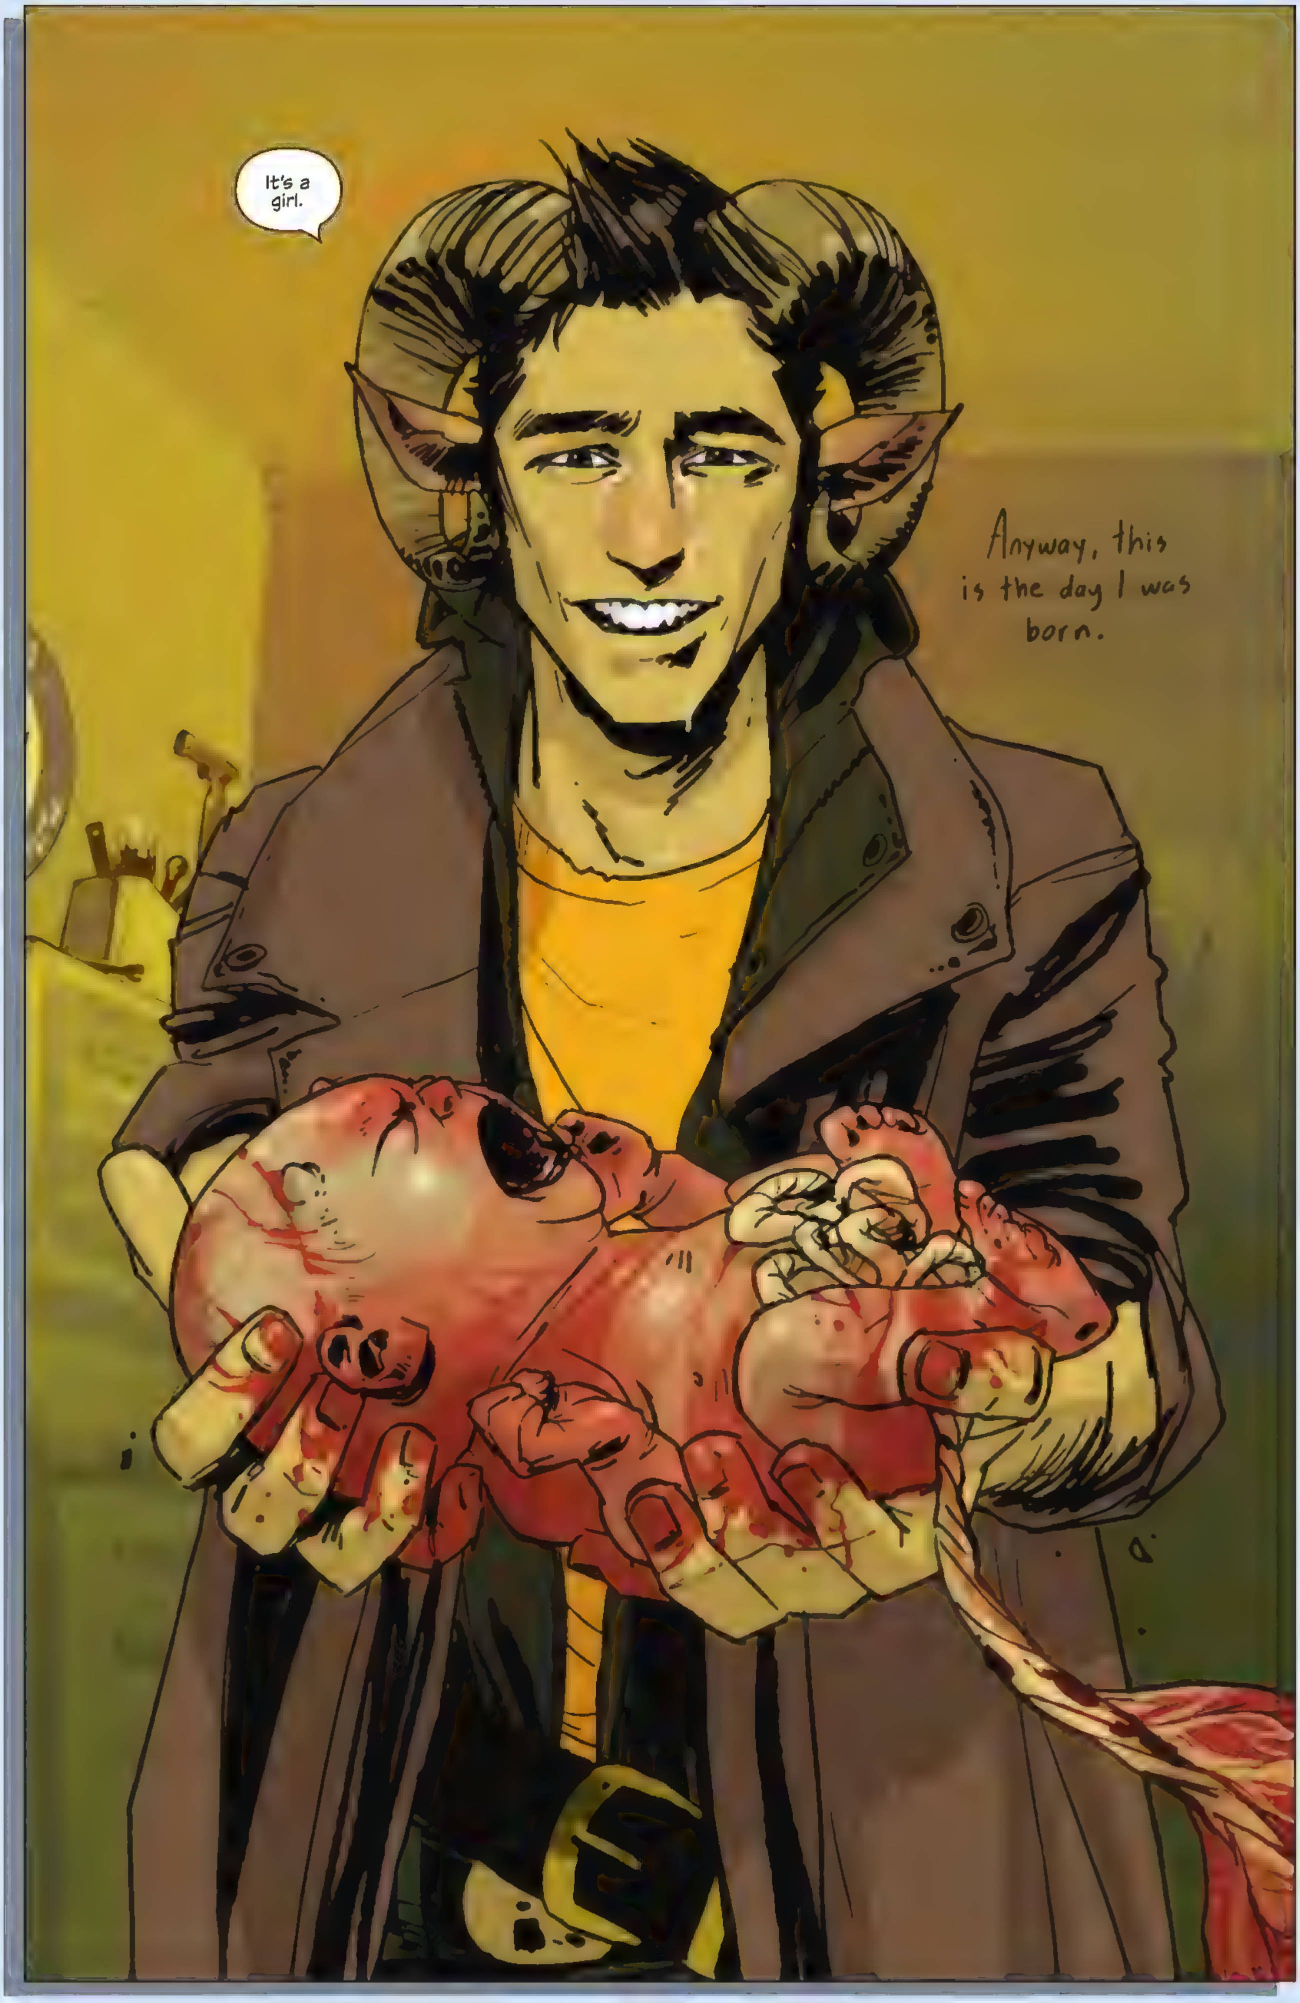
Just keep pushing. We're so close.
Seriously, you'll never have sex with me again if I defecate all over you.
Unless you're secretly into that.
Please don't be into that.
But ideas are fragile things.
You have never been as beautiful as you are right now.
Most don't live long outside of the ether from which they were pulled, kicking and screaming.



Right, because nothing's more lovely than a fat woman spread-eagle in the back of an old body shop. It's like something out of a fairy tale or...
That's why people create with someone else.
AHHHN HOLY [redacted]!
Do you need a healing spell? We agreed, Alana! No shame in managing pain!
Two minds can sometimes improve the odds of an idea's survival...
It -ehn- doesn't hurt at all. It...it feels good.
Is it sick that it -ehn- feels so good?
...but there are no guarantees.
You're crying. You never cry.
What's wrong? Marko, what is it...?



It's a girl.
Anyway, this is the day I was born.

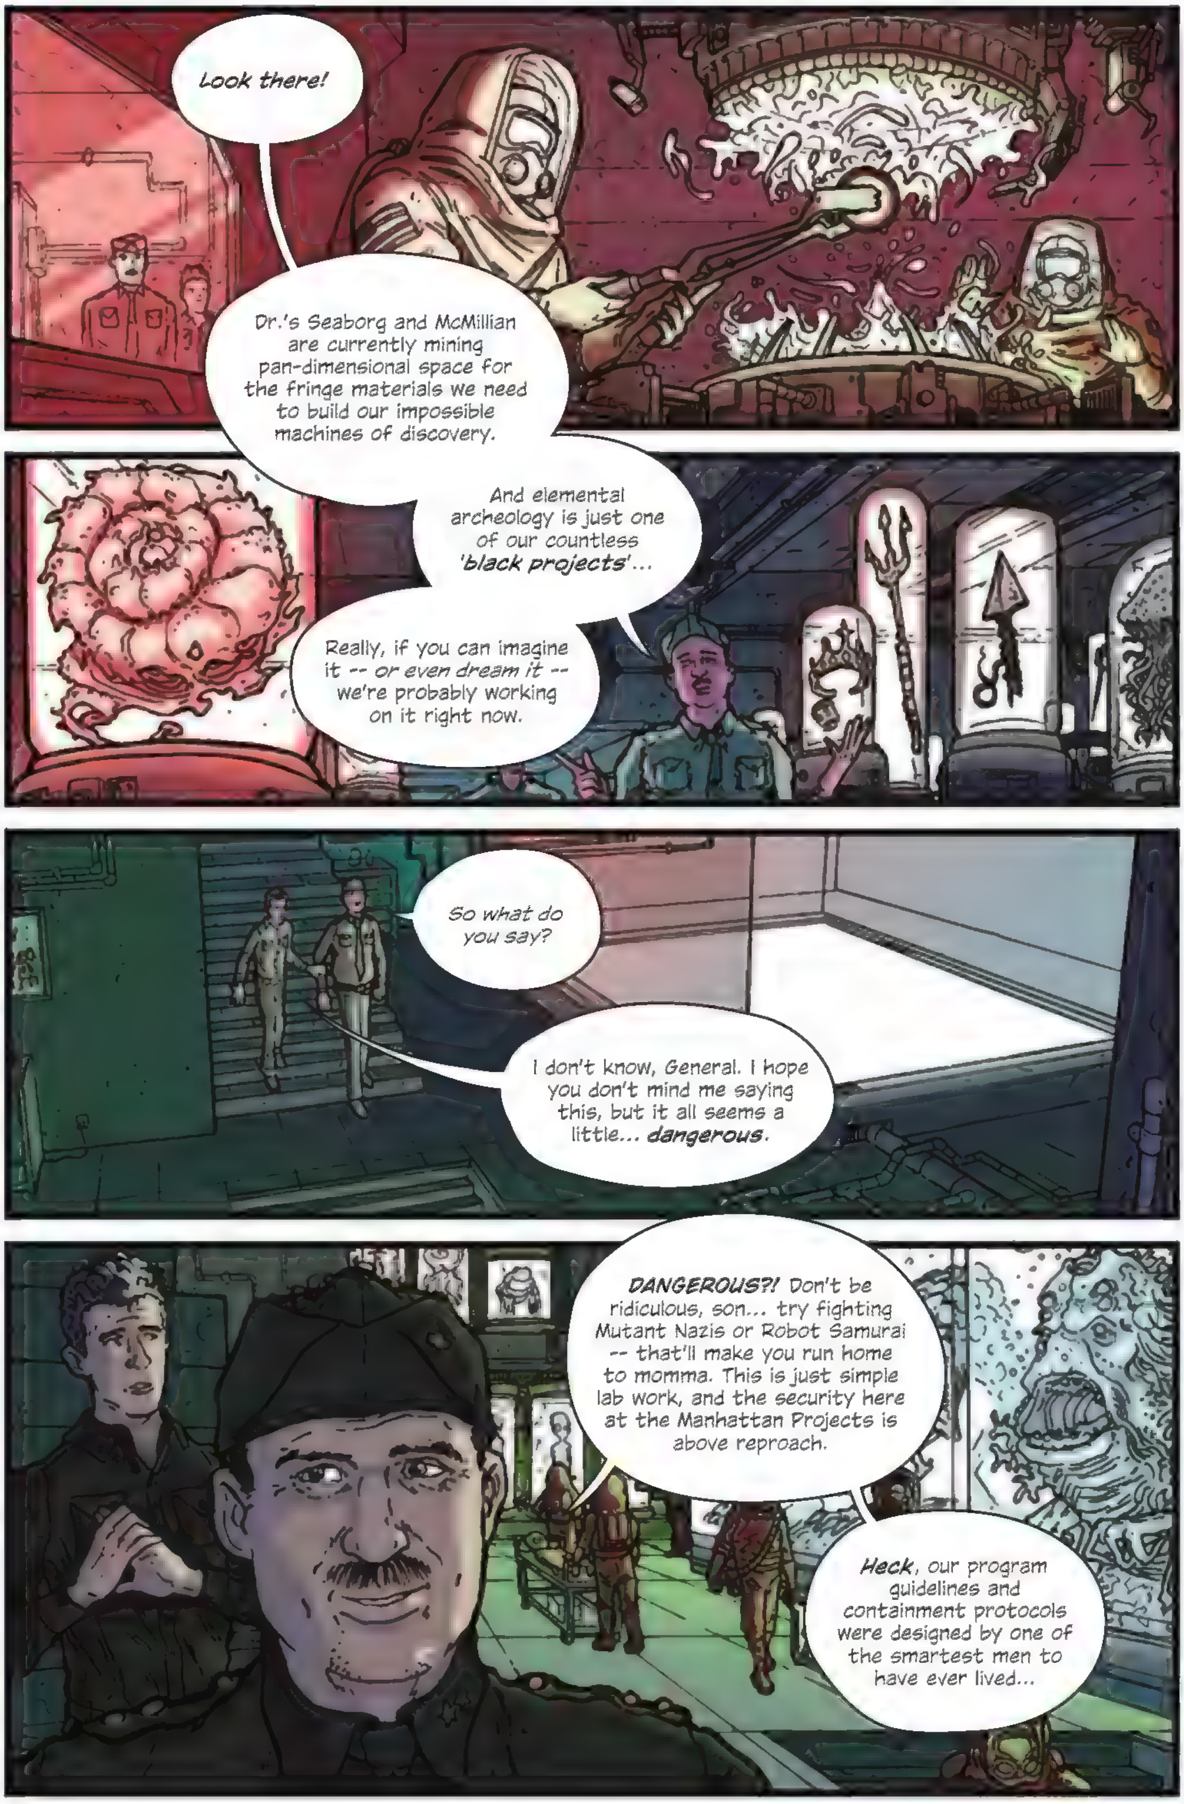
See... at first, they want you here because of what you can offer the program...
They bring you here for your mind.
But eventually, they lock you up because of the secrets you've hidden in it.
Do you have any idea what we've done here?



Look there!
Dr.'s Seaborg and McMillian are currently mining pan-dimensional space for the fringe materials we need to build our impossible machines of discovery.
And elemental archeology is just one of our countless 'black projects'...
Really, if you can imagine it -- or even dream it -- we're probably working on it right now.
So what do you say?
I don't know, General. I hope you don't mind me saying this, but it all seems a little... dangerous.
DANGEROUS?! Don't be ridiculous, son... try fighting Mutant Nazis or Robot Samurai -- that'll make you run home to momma. This is just simple lab work, and the security here at the Manhattan Projects is above reproach.
Heck, our program guidelines and containment protocols were designed by one of the smartest men to have ever lived...

With each successive graphic novel (Ghost World, David Boring, Ice Haven, Wilson, Mister Wonderful), Clowes has been praised for his emotionally compelling narratives that reimagine the ways that stories can be told in comics. The Art of Daniel Clowes: Modern Cartoonist is the first monograph on this award-winning, New York Times-bestselling creator, compiled with his complete cooperation. It includes all of Clowes's best-known illustrations as well as rare and previously unpublished work, all reproduced from the original art. (STK459363) (C: 0-1-2)

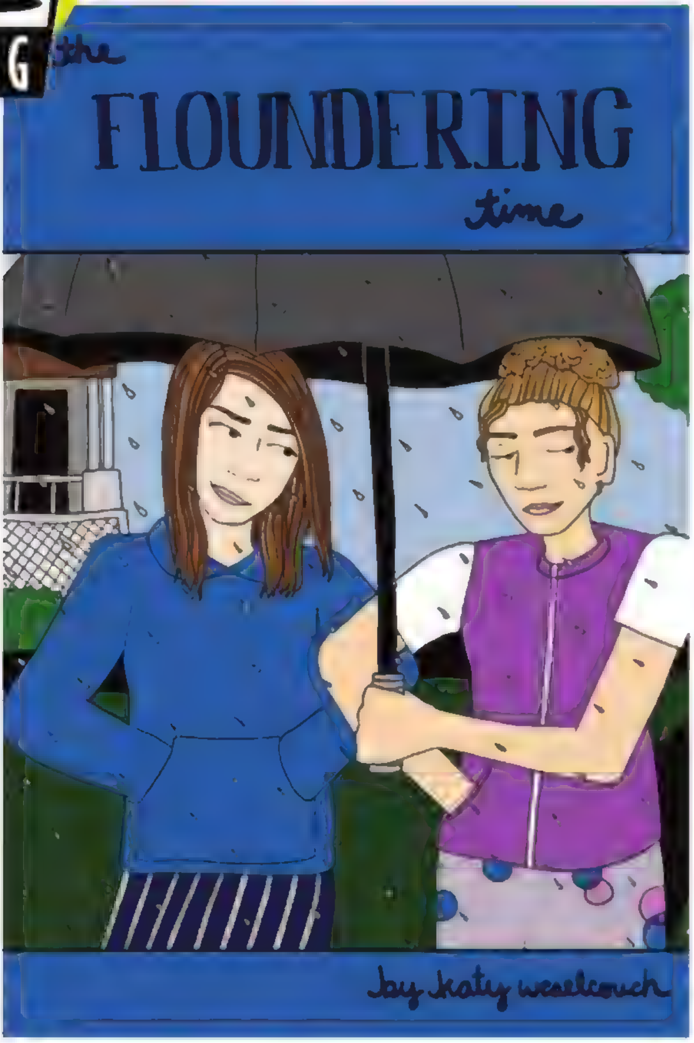
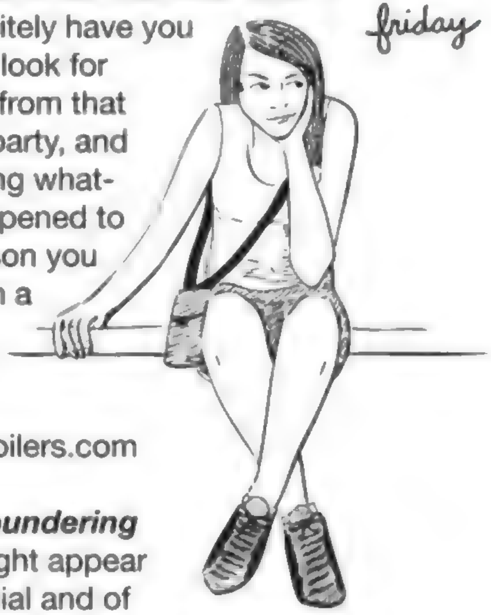
SLG PUBLISHING · I Know What You're Thinking



" I recommend it to anyone about to embark on a new stage in their lives, or anyone who wants to remember what that was like. It will definitely have you going to look for pictures from that last big party, and wondering whatever happened to that person you had such a big crush on."
Majorspoilers.com



"The Floundering Time might appear to be trivial and of scant lasting value, the dilemmas that are faced by the largely female protagonists are very real to those of this age."
Lois Henderson
bookpleasures.com

"The book does a great job of making the unique experience of going to school in a female-only environment something relatable to a larger audience. "

CROSSED VOLUME THREE: PSYCHOPATH

The long-awaited third volume of Crossed is finally here, collecting all seven issues of the Psychopath series by David Lapham and artist Raulo Caceres! In one terrifying moment, civilization crumbled. An outbreak of insanity swept across the planet, turning millions of people into the scarred homicidal maniacs known as "the Crossed." For one small band of survivors, the discovery of a starving, injured man in the desert seems like an unexpected blessing. He knows where they could be safe: the location of the last holdout of the scientific community, where the military offers protection and the cure to the Crossed plague is being developed. But Harold Lorre is not the savior they hope him to be. He's a calculating, lethal man whose mind was dangerously unhinged even before the world went mad. Surrounded by marauding hordes, their nerves shattered by unending fear, the group fall victim to the manipulations and deadly perversions of a psychopath. Writer David Lapham, the critically acclaimed creator of Stray Bullets, returns to the universe of Crossed with a descent into evil so far beyond what you could possibly imagine. Available in three editions: as a Trade Paperback or Hardcover with new covers by series artist Raulo Caceres and also a Signed Hardcover, with a new Caceres cover, signed by writer David Lapham and limited to just 1000 copies!

KOCHI WANABA

KOCHI WANABA HC

(W/A/CA) Jamie Smart

Kochi Wanaba is a quiet kid who loves nothing more than to draw secrets in his sketchbook. When the day of the annual Bee Festival falls upon his town, Kochi's loud, hyperactive girlfriend Lhys can barely contain herself. Unfortunately for Kochi, tolerating Lhys' excitement becomes the least of his problems as supernatural chaos breaks out all around them, threatening to change their lives forever. Rendered in Jamie Smart's characteristic illustration style that straddles the cute and the grotesque, Kochi Wanaba is a pencil-drawn graphic novel that combines all-out comedy with genuine, captivating emotional range. Celebrated creator Camilla d'Errico delivers a stunning visual journey exploring emotion, self-discovery/innocence and what it means to be human. TANPOPO is superhumanly intelligent and inhumanly emotionless. Attached to a mysterious machine and ruled by her vast knowledge, one day her heart rises up to struggle against her ruling mind. Torn and confused, she now seeks humanity, longing to feel what other humans feel. Each chapter of TANPOPO is inspired by a classic piece of literature or poetry, woven into its own epic story, and contained in this beautiful hardcover edition. (STK459942)

NONNONBA GN

(W/A/CA) Shigeru Mizuki

NonNonBa is the definitive work by acclaimed Gekiga-ka Shigeru Mizuki, a poetic memoir detailing his interest in yokai (spirit monsters). Within the pages of NonNonBa, Mizuki explores the legacy left him by his childhood explorations of the spirit world, explorations encouraged by his grandmother, a grumpy old woman named NonNonBa. NonNonBa is a touching work about childhood and growing up, as well as a fascinating portrayal of Japan in a moment of transition. NonNonBa was the first manga to win the Angouleme Prize for Best Album. ONWARD TOWARDS OUR NOBLE DEATHS GN

(W/A/CA) Shigeru Mizuki

Shigeru Mizuki is the preeminent figure of Gekiga manga and one of the most famous working cartoonists in Japan today. Onward Towards Our Noble Deaths is his first book to be translated into English and is a semi-autobiographical account of the desperate final weeks of a Japanese infantry unit at the end of World War II. The soldiers are told that they must go into battle and die for the honor of their country, with certain execution facing them if they return alive. (STK436995)

FALLEN WORDS GN

(W/A/CA) Yoshihiro Tatsumi

In Fallen Words, Yoshihiro Tatsumi takes up the oral tradition of rakugo and breathes new life into it by shifting the format from spoken word to manga. Each of the eight stories in the collection is lifted from the Edo-era Japanese storytelling form. As Tatsumi notes in the afterword, the world of rakugo, filled with mystery, emotion, revenge, hope, and of course, love, overlaps perfectly with the world of gekiga that he has spent the better part of his life developing. These stories resonate with modern readers thanks to their comedic elements and familiarity with human idiosyncrasies. Tatsumi's love of wordplay shines through in the telling of these whimsical stories, and yet he still offers timeless insight into human nature. (STK460062) (C: 0-1-2)

YOSHIHIRO TATSUMI
THE PUSH MAN and other stories

THE PUSH MAN AND OTHER STORIES TP

(W/A/CA) Yoshihiro Tatsumi

Thirty years before the advent of the literary graphic novel movement in the United States, Yoshihiro Tatsumi created a library of comics that draws parallels to modern prose fiction and today's alternative comics. The stories collected in The Push Man are simultaneously haunting, disturbing, and darkly humorous. A lone man travels the country, projecting pornographic films for private individuals while attempting to maintain a normal home life. An auto mechanic's obsession with a female TV personality turns fatal after a chance meeting between the two. (STK460063)

YOSHIHIRO TATSUMI
ABANDON THE OLD IN TOKYO

ABANDON THE OLD IN TOKYO TP

(W/A/CA) Yoshihiro Tatsumi

Abandon the Old in Tokyo continues to delve into the urban underbelly of 1960s Tokyo, exposing not only the seedy dealings of the Japanese everyman but Yoshihiro Tatsumi's maturation as a storywriter. Many of the stories deal with the economic hardships of the time and the strained relationships between men and women, but do so by means of dark allegorical twists and turns. A young sewer cleaner's girlfriend has a miscarriage and leaves him when he proves incapable of finding higher paying work. When a factory worker loses his hand at work, the parallels between him and his pet monkey prove startling and significant. (STK460064)

BLACK BLIZZARD

BLACK BLIZZARD GN

(W/A) Yoshihiro Tatsumi

(CA) Yoshihiro Tatsumi, Adrian Tomine

Created in the late 1950s, Black Blizzard is Yoshihiro Tatsumi's remarkable first full-length graphic novel and one of the first published examples of Gekiga. Susumu Yamaji, a Young pianist, is arrested for murder and ends up handcuffed to a career criminal on the train that will take them to prison. When an avalanche derails the train, the criminal takes the opportunity to escape, dragging a reluctant Susumu with him. They flee into the mountains, taking shelter from the storm. Black Blizzard uncovers an unlikely love story and an even unlikelier friendship. (STK412316)

Make me a Woman

MAKE ME A WOMAN HC

(W/A/CA) Vanessa Davis

It's easy to understand why Vanessa Davis has taken the comic industry by storm: her comics are pure chutzpah, gorgeously illustrated in watercolors. No story is too painful to tell — like how much she enjoyed fat camp; Nor too off limits — like her critique of R. Crumb; Nor too personal — like her stories of growing up Jewish in Florida. Using her sweet-but-biting wit, Davis effortlessly carves out a wholly original and refreshing niche in two well-worn territories: autobio comics and the jewish identity. Davis draws strips from her daily diary often centering on her relationships with men, her mother, and eventually her long-time boyfriend. (STK423641)

GOOD-BYE TP

(W/A/CA) Yoshihiro Tatsumi

Drawn in 1971 and 1972, these stories expand Yoshihiro Tatsumi's vocabulary for characters contextualized by themes of depravity and disorientation in twentieth-century Japan. Some of the tales focus on the devastation the country felt as a result of World War II: in one story a man devotes twenty years to preserving the memory of those killed at Hiroshima, only to discover a horrible misconception at the heart of his tribute. Tatsumi's characters muddle through isolated despair and fleeting pleasure to live out their darkly nuanced lives. (STK460067)

Hark! A Vagrant is an uproarious romp through history and literature seen through the sharp, contemporary lens of New Yorker cartoonist and comics-sensation Kate Beaton. No era nor tome is left unscathed as Beaton rightly skewers the Western World's revolutionaries, leaders, sycophants, and suffragists while equally honing her wit on the hapless heroes, heroines, and villains of the best-loved fiction. In just four years, Beaton has taken the comics world by storm with her non sequiturs, cheeky comebacks, and irreverent punch lines. (STK450234)

The concept behind Significant Objects began in 2009 as an online inquiry to see if commissioning great stories about common geegaws would increase the objects value — as measured in actual eBay auctions. The experiment, in short, was a smash hit. As will be the Significant Objects book.

ZEN of STEVE JOBS

THE ZEN OF STEVE JOBS GN

(W) Caleb Melby (A/CA) JESS3

Apple cofounder Steve Jobs (1955-2011) had such an enormous impact on so many people that his life often took on aspects of myth. But much of his success was due to collaboration with designers, engineers and thinkers whose love of the spotlight was not as great as his own. The Zen of Steve Jobs tells the story of his relationship with one such person: Kobun Chino Otogawa, a Zen Buddhist priest who emigrated to the U.S. from Japan in the early 1970s. He was an innovator, lacked appreciation for rules and was passionate about art and design. This graphic novella centers on the period after Jobs's exile from Apple in 1985 when he took up intensive study with Kobun. Their time together was integral to the big leaps that Apple took later on with its product design and business strategy. UNTERZAKHN

UNTERZAKHN GN

(W/A/CA) Leela Corman

A mesmerizing, heartbreaking graphic novel of immigrant life on New York's Lower East Side at the turn of the 20th-century, as seen through the eyes of twin sisters whose lives take radically and tragically different paths. In drawings that capture both the tumult and the telling details of that life, Unterzakhn (Yiddish for "Underthings") tells the story of sisters Esther and Fanya: as wide-eyed little girls absorbing the sights and sounds of a neighborhood of struggling immigrants; as teenagers taking their own tentative steps into the wider world; and, finally, as adults battling for their own piece of the "golden land," where the difference between just barely surviving and triumphantly succeeding involves, for each of them, painful decisions that will have unavoidably tragic repercussions.

Gail Carriger's best-selling tale of vampires, werewolves, and parasols comes to life in this steampunk-fueled adaptation! Alexia Tarabotti is laboring under a great many social tribulations. First, she has no soul. Second, she's a spinster whose father is both Italian and dead. Third, she was rudely attacked by a vampire, a terrible breach of social etiquette. Where to go from there? From bad to worse apparently, for the appalling Lord Maccon (loud, messy, gorgeous, and werewolf) is sent by Queen Victoria to investigate the incident, and he is none too happy to see Alexia at the scene. With unexpected vampires appearing and expected vampires disappearing, everyone seems to believe Alexia responsible, given her soulless ability to negate supernatural powers. Can Alexia uncover what is happening before she becomes the next victim? (STK459106) (C: 0-1-2)

COMICS CONNECTIONS TO MEDIEVAL AND RENAISSANCE LITERATURE
JASON TONDRO

(W) Jason Tondro
Few scholars nursed on the literary canon would dispute that knowledge of Western literature benefits readers and writers of the superhero genre. This analysis of superhero comics as Romance literature shows that the reverse is true — knowledge of the superhero romance has something to teach critics of traditional literature. Establishing the comic genre as a cousin to Arthurian myth, Spenser, and Shakespeare, it uses comics to inform readings of The Faerie Queene, The Tempest, Malory's Morte d'Arthur and more, while employing authors like Ben Johnson to help explain comics by Alan Moore, Jack Kirby, and Grant Morrison and characters and teams like Iron Man, the Hulk, the X-Men, and the Justice League (STK459112) NOTE: This item may be available through other retail outlets before shipping to comic book specialty shops.

JOE GOLEM AND THE DROWNING CITY ILLUSTRATED NOVEL HC

(W) Christopher Golden, Mike Mignola (A/CA) Mike Mignola

An illustrated novel from the acclaimed creator of Hellboy — with over 100 illustrations! Fifty years have passed since earthquakes and a rising sea level left Lower Manhattan submerged under more than thirty feet of water, so that its residents began to call it the "Drowning City". Among them are fourteen-year-old Molly McHugh and her friend and employer, Felix Orlov. Once upon a time, Orlov the conjuror was a celebrated stage magician, but now he is an old man; a psychic medium, contacting the spirits of the departed for the grieving loved ones left behind. When a séance goes horribly wrong, Felix Orlov is abducted by strange men wearing gas masks and rubber suits, and Molly finds herself on the run. Her flight leads her into the company of Simon Hodge, a Victorian detective, and his stalwart sidekick, Joe Golem, whose own past and true identity is a mystery to him. (STK459307) (C: 0-1-1)

SUPER BITCHES & ACTION BABES: THE FEMALE HERO IN POPULAR CINEMA—1970-2006 SC

(W) Rikke Schubart

THE FEMALE HERO IN POPULAR CINEMA, 1970-2006
SUPER BITCHES AND ACTION BABES
Rikke Schubart

With actress Pam Grier's breakthrough in Coffy and Foxy Brown, women entered action, science fiction, war, westerns and martial arts films — genres that had previously been considered the domain of male protagonists. This ground-breaking cinema, however, was — and still is — viewed with ambivalence. This volume contains an in-depth critical analysis and study of the female hero in popular film from 1970 to 2006. The entrance of the female hero into films written by, produced by and made for men is viewed through the lens of feminism and post-feminism arguments. Analyzed works include films with actors Michelle Yeoh and Meiko Kaji, the Alien films, the Lara Croft franchise, Charlie's Angels, and television productions such as Xena: Warrior Princess and Alias. STAR WARS: THE FATE OF JEDI—APOCALYPSE HC

(W) Troy Denning

In the stunning finale of the epic Fate of the Jedi series, Jedi and Sith face off — with Coruscant as their battlefield! For the Sith, it's the chance to restore their dominance over the galaxy that forgot them for so long. For Abeloth, it's a giant step in her quest to conquer all life everywhere. For Luke Skywalker, it's a call to arms to eradicate the Sith and their monstrous new master once and for all! In a planetwide strike, teams of Jedi Knights take the Sith infiltrators by swift and lethal surprise. But victory against the cunning and savage Abeloth, and the terrifying endgame she has planned, is anything but certain. And as Luke, Ben, Han, Leia, Jaina, Jag, and their allies close in, the devastating truth about the dark side incarnate will be exposed—and send shock waves through the Jedi Order, the galaxy, and the Force itself! ALIEN CHOPSTICKS
BIG CHAP, CHEST BURSTER, & FACE HUGGER

After producing innovative chopsticks based on Star Wars lightsabers, historical samurai swords, Neon Genesis Evangelion entry plugs, animals, and dinosaurs Kotobukiya is proud to bring another classic science-fiction franchise into the kitchen with Alien chopsticks: BIG CHAP (the nickname for the Xenomorph on set), the parasitic CHEST BURSTER, and the aggressive FACE HUGGER.

Unique, fun, and innovative, these fun chopsticks celebrate one of the most iconic film creatures of all time, Alien's Xenomorph in all of its forms, and feature high quality sculpts painted with fine detail. Despite the realistic detail, don't be afraid - they won't bite. 9 inches long with the eating utensil formed from the creatures' tails, the Alien Chopsticks are fully safety tested and fun for the whole family. Go ahead and slurp your noodles; in space, no one can hear you eat!

LANDMARK PEOPLE & EVENTS: Will Eisner

Armed with nothing more than an address, I sent Will Eisner a letter back in 1982, asking him if we could produce a SPIRIT shirt that we'd be using to launch Graphitti Designs' line of shirts. Even though I had no credentials, track-record, reputation...or money to offer him, Will responded with great enthusiasm. This initial letter was followed by a series of letters and phone conversations between Will and I where I have to assume, my lack of business savvy was apparent. Rather than running away, Will took me under his wing and helped me create my very first licensing agreement. Though a simplistic two-page agreement, it provided the template that we still use today. Thank you Will for giving me an opportunity...and my first lesson in licensing!!

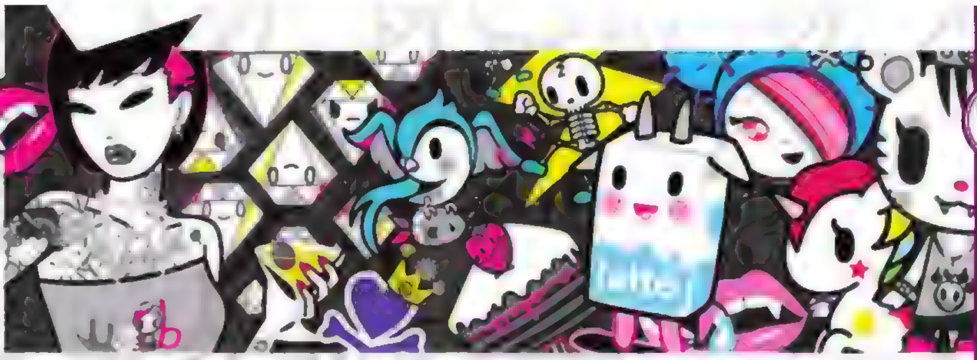
tokidoki



TOKIDOKI means "sometimes" in Japanese. I chose a Japanese word because I love Japan. I love everything from the ultra modern happy face of Shibuya to the serious magic silence of Kyoto. I chose "sometimes", because everyone waits for moments that change one's destiny. By simple chance or meeting a new person, tokidoki is the hope, the hidden energy everyone has inside that gives us the strength to face a new day and dream something positive, that something magical will happen to us.

Hello, my name is Simone Legno.

FIREFLY: LITTLE DAMN HEROES – SERENITY MAQUETTE

Smaller, But Still Plucky as Ever! One of science fiction's most beloved spaceships isn't a gargantuan battlecruiser or a sleek starship cruising the galaxies. It's the workhorse Firefly-class transport, well past her prime with hardly a peashooter to defend herself, named Serenity. QMx has recreated Serenity in 1:400 scale — about 8" long — and is made of dozens of parts, some as small as a millimeter. Her design matches the Firefly TV series version of the ship in every detail: She was created using the show's actual CG files. Dubbed the 9th Big Damn Hero by Joss Whedon, we knew our Little Damn Heroes wouldn't be complete with out her. The QMx Little Damn Heroes: Serenity Maquette is the perfect size for your favorite space. (STK459124) Scheduled to ship in March 2012. (7814/FFY0167) (C: 0-1-4)

From her handcuffs necklace to the custom-made buttons on her jacket to the creases in her jeans to the laces on her sneakers, the maquette is richly detailed and exquisitely hand painted. Claudia stands 6" tall on a "rusty" gear-shaped base that measures 4 5/8" in diameter and 7/8" high. (STK459126) Scheduled to ship in March 2012. (7814/W130016) (C: 0-1-4)

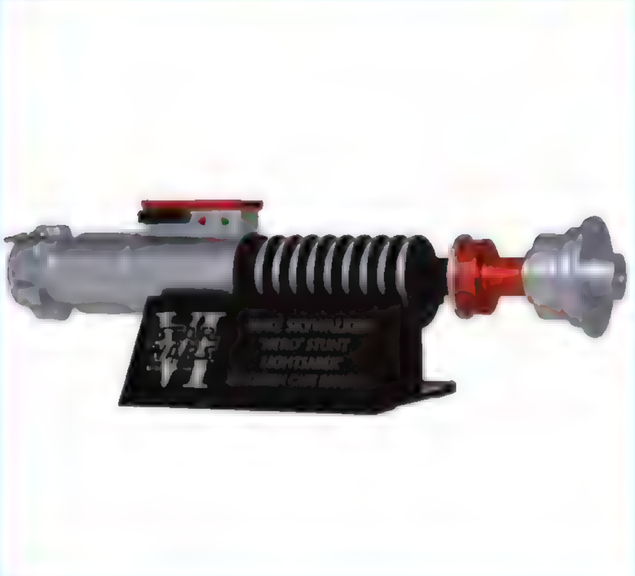
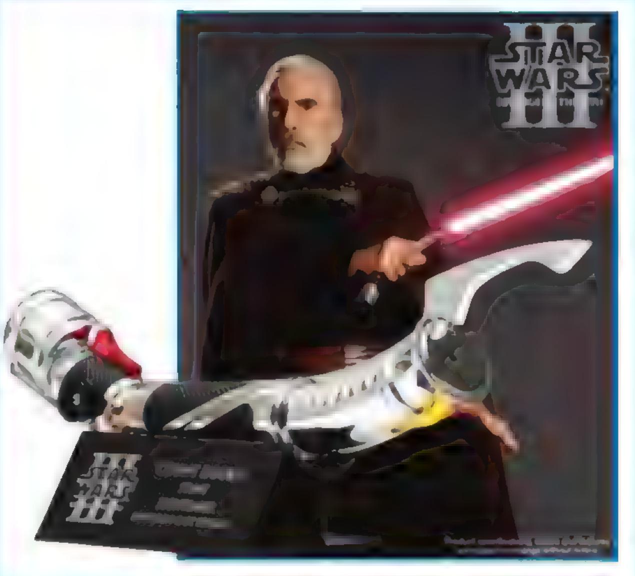
SPOTLIGHT ON





STAR WARS: STUNT LIGHTSABER REPLICAS

In the Star Wars movies not only do they make multiple copies of the props we see on screen, but different versions, as well. These are divided into two categories commonly referred to in the industry as "hero" and "stunt." Hero props are made for close ups and promotional pictures which require a more beauty shot of the prop. Most of the time when a lightsaber is ignited on screen, it is a stunt version of the hilt. These props are usually cast in resin from the hero prop and then painted to look just like the hero prop. They are lighter and easier to wield while filming the exciting lightsaber duels and action scenes. In the case of the stunt lightsabers, there is usually a rod attached to the hilt so that the actors can actually duel and make contact with the blades. These rods are also invaluable reference points for the special effects technicians to later digitally add in the signature glows of the lightsaber blades. These stunt lightsabers are faithful replicas of the hero prop used by Luke Skywalker in Return of the Jedi and Count Dooku in Revenge of the Sith. Each comes with a unique lightsaber and plaque stand to display your lightsaber. Scheduled to ship in March 2012. (1859) (C: 0-1-2)

MARVEL SLINGERS

Upper Deck and Marvel Entertainment have teamed up to bring fans an exciting new collectible game for the holiday season! Marvel Slingers is fast-paced game of skill and strategy that pits two players against each other as they race to capture collectible medallions in an effort to score the most points and claim victory. The Slinger itself is truly innovative as players use it in a similar fashion to a yo-yo, but the Slinger has a patented retractable mechanism and an "Invisible Energy Shield" that allows players to pick up collectible medallions if they "sling" it just right. If players sling the units too softly, they won't get close enough to the medallions to pick them up. If they sling them too hard, the Slingers game units will register when it hits the ground, deducting points and potentially lives from the player. Once players master handling the Slinger, they will score big by and cash in by recovering medallions with high point totals. Both the Slinger and collectible medallions feature popular Marvel characters like the Avengers, Spider-Man, the X-Men, the Incredible Hulk, and more! Get started with the Starter Pack, then get more Slingers and more medallions with the Battle Pack and the Blister Packs! THE DIVIDE

Nine strangers, all tenants of a New York high rise apartment, escape a nuclear attack by hiding out in the building's bunker-like basement. Trapped for days underground with no hope for rescue, and only unspeakable horrors awaiting them on the other side of the bunker door, the group begins to descend into madness, each turning on one another with physical and psycho-sexual torment. As supplies dwindle, and tensions flare, and they grow increasingly unhinged by their close quarters and hopelessness, each act against one another becomes more depraved than the next. Available in Blu-Ray and standard DVD format. (STK460210) (C: 0-1-4)

Renae De Liz had a dream — an anthology of women creators, creating comics from a women's perspective — and through Kickstarter she brought her dream, Womanthology, to life.

When editor Renae De Liz (IDW Publishing's The Last Unicorn) set her goal of $25,000 on crowdsourcing website kickstarter.com, she thought it would be a long struggle to achieve and make her dream a reality. To her grateful surprise, comics fandom responded overwhelmingly, donating over $100,000 to the Womanthology project and its associated charity.

Arriving in stores in late January, Womanthology (AUG118042, $50.00) is Renae's unique project — an oversized anthology by dozens of women creators funded through Kickstarter and published by IDW Publishing.

What Women Want: A Womanthology Interview

As part of PREVIEWS' "Women in Comics" month, Renae De Liz spoke with PREVIEWS about Womanthology, crowdfunding, and women creators in the comics industry.

PREVIEWS* (P): Womanthology is unique in several ways. What motivated you to spearhead an anthology of comics from exclusively female creators?

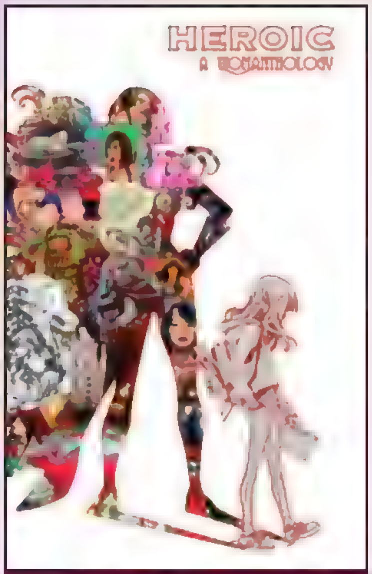
Renae De Liz (RDL): It really was a build up over time. I started noticing on social sites that there were a lot of women interested in comics (and I mean a lot!) but most were scattered and didn't know each other. I noticed a lot didn't know how to take their love of creating comics to the next level from something casual to actually pursuing a career. I thought it would just bet fun to gather together as women in comics and do something fun for a good cause.

Artist Jessica Hickman finally kept saying "Hey, do an all girl Anthology", so finally I sent out a tweet to see if there were any interest. That day I had over 100 interested women. I had absolutely NO idea it would become what it did, or garner so much attention. From there the purpose branched out for me, as I came to realize just how much good a project like this could do in so many different ways.

P: You've funded the project through Kickstarter. Why did you decide to use crowdfunding? What benefits did crowdfunding bring to the project?

RDL: I decided on Kickstarter because I had to gather enough funding to pay for production of the book (as though IDW was kind enough to publish it, being all proceeds for Charity, the funding still needed to be raised). I had heard fantastic things about Kickstarter, and did a huge amount of research prior to develop a campaign that would hopefully have a good shot. I felt it would be a good way for the comics' community to support women in comics if they were so interested. And boys were they!



"I absolutely did not expect the overwhelming response. We were all buckled down for a long, difficult, month-long climb to $25,000.... I cannot convey the extreme shock I was in that first day (and still am actually)."

P: Your Kickstarter goal was $25,000, and you raised over $100,000. Did you expect that kind of response? How gratified were you by the comics' community's overwhelming response to Womanthology? Beyond the increase in Womanthology's print run from 1,500 copies to 5,500 copies because of the Kickstarter response, how has the response affected the book?

RDL: I absolutely did not expect the overwhelming response. We were all buckled down for a long, difficult, month-long climb to $25,000. I had a plan, we had a schedule of when to do things. We were ready to make it happen! However, after 19 hours we made the $25,000 goal and it continued to climb. I cannot convey the extreme shock I was in that first day (and still am actually). All my plans and calculations were out the window, and it suddenly became a struggle to keep up with questions from backers, interviews, and taking care of lining up rewards offered from amazing supporters from all across the comics industry. It was one of the most amazing and most crazy times of my life. I am so very grateful I had Laura Morley (Assistant Project Manager) right there with me. She's been taking care of questions, and handling organization. She's absolutely amazing, so if anyone ever gets a chance too, give her a big thank you!

As for funding, the $100,000 is amazing, however having pre-sold so many copies of the book and other things, a lot of that is for fulfilling the 2,000 rewards that were pledged for. However it has affected the project in positive ways in that it helped keep the book at a large 330+ pages (which is expensive to print) and we can also now print a lot more books, while also getting some into libraries. I was also able to send out comp copies of the book and sketchbook to contributors, something I really wanted to do from the beginning. There're some other things I hope to do by the end that will help out contributors on the book and more women in comics. It's an all proceeds for Charity project, as it's been since the beginning. So everything done is with that ultimate goal in mind.

P: Womanthology features both establishing and up-and-coming female creators. How were creators recruited for the project? Some parts of the book feature unusual creator pairings; how were they matched together, and were you satisfied by the results? Which creators' work for Womanthology was most surprising to you?

RDL: I wanted to make this project so that level of experience was not an issue, and everyone was accepted. I feel every level of skill is special and important in its own way, and equally as important to support. I personally think women (me included) struggle with feeling like we're not good enough. I cannot tell you how many of those initial emails showing interest from the ladies included lines like "I don't think I'm good enough, but..." or "If you don't want me on project I'll understand...". I felt every single person was worth it, and I wanted to show them they were. Each woman was so individual and special in their own way in how they created comics, and I wanted to highlight all of them. In the end we had contributors ranging from age 5 to over age 70. From kids who are just starting out drawing their own characters, to ladies who have been doing comic work for decades. I am entirely happy with the huge range of age and skill we ended up with.

As for how people were matched up, I decided it would be best to pair up professional women in comics who were interested, with comics' creators who were just getting on their feet in the industry. For them, I gave each professional a list of portfolios to look over, and they chose the one they felt they'd like to work with. For the rest of the pairing, some picked their own partners, but in the end artists picked the stories they wanted to work on (as the writers each wrote tag lines of what they had in mind). It was a long process, but I feel it ended up well.

What Women Want: A Womanthology Interview

As for most surprising, there were quite a few, and I absolutely love every single thing contributed to the book. However I feel particularly Jean Kang, Kat Laurange, Stacie Ponder, Tanja Wooten, Caitlyn Vildbrandt, Thalia de la Torre, Ellen Crenshaw, and Meng Zhiang were just a few up and coming artists who astounded me (though again, they ALL did!) Rachel Deering, Joamette Gil and Jody Houser are just a few up and coming writers who had great stories. And of course, every single kid/teen contributor wowed me constantly. They each had a level of uniqueness about their work I really enjoyed.

P: How do you see Womanthology fitting into the comics market today? Did you expect it to be a commercial success?

RDL: I honestly had no idea it would be such a success. My goal from the beginning was to create something fun, could help people. I never tried to fit it into the rules of what's marketable and what's not, I only tried to create a project that would mean something to the people involved. I'm often told Womanthology is a book unlike any other, so only time will tell what it will become to the comics industry. The book isn't just an anthology of stories, it's about the passion these ladies have for creating comics, and showcasing each individual who makes up the industry we all love.

P: What was IDW's role in the book?

RDL: IDW is the publisher of the book. I requested a publisher because I really wanted these women to be published in a big way. Everything in the book is creator owned, and all proceeds are for Charity (which is why funding was needed to cover printing costs of the massive book). IDW helped with the many details of publishing a large book and getting it distributed worldwide, not to mention lending their name on the book, instantly publishing 170 women by a well known company, and also lending mounds of credibility to the project. Womanthology is an unusual book, so I am intensely thankful to IDW for taking a chance on a new idea to help support women in comics. I truly feel that way of thinking is what will change the comics industry in big ways.

GREATEST OF EASE

P: Several of the comics news websites have in recent months noted the lack of female creators on books from the major publishers, yet women attend comics conventions in great numbers. Do you feel there are structural or cultural issues that are inhibiting women from working on major books?

RDL: I personally feel it's a mix of a lot of things. To break it down simply I feel 2 major things are apparent in causing less women creators in comics.

1. The types of stories mainly produced now in the largest publishers (I speak mainly about the biggest couple companies as they control most of the comics industry) basically keep women out just by being what it is. The artwork typically sought after is photo realistic (or close to), with perfect technically drawn backgrounds and spot on anatomy. Women (only generally speaking) do not naturally want to draw that way. We focus on mood, feeling, atmosphere, and draw in more simplistic, rounded styles. This is not what is sought after to hire usually, so many are left out. The publishers are not purposefully doing it, they are only producing what has sold the best before. And in an industry where's it's hard to make money, different styles and story types are not usually taken as they are financial risks. Obviously current types of stories and artwork have their important place in comics, but I feel there's also room for other interpretations. I would like to see our favorite superheroes drawn in softer, more expressive ways without it being labeled a "kids" or "girl" book. Likewise I'd like to see stories written that focus more on the complexities of life and relationships between our favorite superheroes (while still being mixed with the usual awesome action! I don't feel a book should be one or the other) that I feel women can help give whole new perspectives. I truly feel this would be beneficial to not only women in comics, but the Publishers as well, as it would bring about that sought after female audience they've been trying to get a grasp on for so long.

> "The book isn't just an anthology of stories, it's about the passion these ladies have for creating comics, and showcasing each individual who makes up the industry we all love."

2. Women in comics need to be more up front! I constantly hear from the large publishers that they only get one, maybe two, submissions from female creators over years! This should not be! I know for a fact that on Womanthology alone, there's a huge love for superheroes. If we want to work in comics, and work on those superhero books, then we need to let these Publishers know our interest en masse and show them what we're capable of doing with their properties. I feel women tend to feel that working hard and doing good work alone will garner them notice, however I feel in comics that's not always the case. The ones that usually get the jobs are professionally outgoing, vocal and in the forefront with what they want, so we need to work on that.

P: Will a book like Womanthology raise the profile of female creators?

RDL: I hope so! If that was a side effect of the book, it would truly be wonderful. Though I feel the comics industry already appreciates women in comics quite a bit. The huge amount of support shown for Womanthology from the Kickstarter, and from the many emails and messages, from both men and women comics readers, publishers, and creators, shows just how much they do want more women in comics.

P: What more needs to be done to level the playing field for female creators?

RDL: Readers need to write to their publishers and let them know they'd like more female creators! Let them know you'd like to branch out in terms of stories and styles!

Be sure to look for the "Women in Comics" icon throughout this issue for more great comics and graphic novels by some of today's most talented female writers and artists!

SOULLESS MANGA

YEN PRESS

The long wait is over! Soulless Manga is finally here!

For those of you not familiar with The Parasol Protectorate by New York Times-bestselling author Gail Carriger, this is one of my favorite book series: an intoxicatingly witty Steampunk mystery, Victorian-supernatural-romance with vampires, werewolves, silver tipped parasols, ridiculous hats, fine tea, and treacle tarts. In other words, it has everything. Gail Carriger's first novel, Soulless, has been beautifully transformed into manga by Priscilla Hamby (aka rem), a rising star and winner of various manga competitions. The transition from novel to manga has done little to diminish Gail's wit and Rem's expressive art style does not disappoint!

Meet Alexia Tarabotti, a stubborn, bluestocking twenty-five-year-old spinster with no soul. Yes, like her Italian dead father, Alexia quite literally has no soul. She is a preternatural and has the ability to negate the unnatural when in close contact; the end result: she is kryptonite to the supernatural. Unlike her half-sisters, Felicity and Evylin Loontwill, Alexia is not the epitome of an English beauty; she's large-nosed and swarthy. But any suitor able to get passed her half-Italian good looks is turned away by a prickly personality and wry wit. Being a preternatural in a supernatural world is hard enough but, what is a girl to do if all the men around her are nitwits as well? Only the Lord Akeldama, flamboyant rove vampire and close friend, is able to understand Alexia's frustrations.

Having to explain to the infuriating Lord Conall Maccon, head of Bureau of the Unnatural Registry (BUR) and local werewolf pack Alpha, how she ended up in the library, with a parasol, and a dead body lying on treacle tart is not one of Alexia's fondest memories. But what is a lady to do when a vampire disregards social etiquette and rudely attacks? Of course she must defend herself, and if, by accident, the savage vampire is killed that is not her fault. Besides, isn't the more important question: who would starve a vampire to the point of breaking societal rules?

The Order of the Brass Octopus has arrived!

ATOMIC ROBO
REAL SCIENCE ADVENTURES

ATOMIC ROBO: REAL SCIENCE ADVENTURES #1

RED 5 COMICS

Atomic Robo fans have asked about it, others perhaps demanded it, and this month it becomes a reality. Everyone's favorite robotic agent is finally expanding outside the confines of his 4-color world to dazzle readers in… well… another 4-color world. Yes, Atomic Robo, the spin-off series, is here.

From Brian Clevinger, the writer of everything "Robo", comes Robo's "other" adventures too vast and exciting to be included in his existing books. Brian invites a stable of talented artists to try their hand at bringing Robo to life in this ongoing collection of adventures based on action, science, guns, monsters, time travel, love, explosions, mad scientists, dinosaurs, catch phrases, plot twists, friendship, and everything else readers have come to expect from one of comics most successful indie books.

There are a lot of comic books out there, but not all are created equal… sometimes others use a book like Real Science Adventures as their muse for what the comic world is doing right.

FRACTURE TP

ACTION LAB

Imagine waking up one day and you are someone completely different. You have no idea how you got where you were or why you are even where you were. Let's take it a step further and say you had three split personalities. One you have known your entire life, one where you are a super villain, and one where you're a super hero. In the book Fracture this is the exact case. I would suggest reading this book if you want to live 3 lives at once without having to be called crazy. I really enjoyed this one because it was a unique way of telling a story about one person who is the hero as well as the villain trying to take himself out on both sides of the table. Good vs. Evil all in one.

GONZO
A Graphic Biography of Hunter S. Thompson
BY WILL BINGLEY & ANTHONY HOPE-SMITH
FOREWORD BY ALAN RINZLER

GONZO: A GRAPHIC BIOGRAPHY OF HUNTER S. THOMPSON

ABRAMS COMICARTS

To put it bluntly: I love anything Hunter S. Thompson. So much so I got the bats from a copy of Fear and Loathing in Las Vegas tattooed on my right torso. While he has been gone for over 5 and a half years as of present time, his legacy continues to live on through reprints of older material and the release of new material like this graphic novel, Gonzo: A Graphic Biography of Hunter S. Thompson.

I have read many accounts of Hunter S. Thompon's life by authorized and unauthorized biographers, but none of told the story as simply as this graphic novel. They break it down to the facts and events, no speculation of why Hunter did what he did or theories on how the man was most likely truly insane, and I liked that. It was a fresh read on a story I've read many times over, and this book will have a proud home on my living room bookshelf with every other book written by, for, or about the life and times of one Doctor Hunter Stockman Thompson.

SAGA #1

IMAGE COMICS

There's been a hole in my comic reading life since Brian K. Vaughn's Ex Machina and Y the Last Man shipped their final issues. I marveled at the sheer scope of the worlds those series depicted while delivering a remarkably strong core cast of characters. His next project, Saga, promises to be yet another triumph for Vaughan as he teams up with artist Fiona Staples to bring readers an ambitious Sci-Fi epic.

It's fitting that Vaughan has chosen to bring Saga to Image, the original home for creator owned material, on the eve of the publisher's 20th-anniversary. With new books like Vaughan's Saga, Brubaker's Fatale, and the bevy of Hickman's creator owned material, it appears as though comic fans can look forward to another strong 20 years from Image!

I could continue to gush about how much I love BKV's work but at this point I think it's clear that Saga is my most anticipated series of 2012. I can't wait to dive headlong into a new Vaughan's new universe, which I'm certain will be as rich as his previous efforts.

GUILDED AGE
VOLUME ONE

GUILDED AGE VOLUME 1 TP

GUILDED AGE

Over the decades, the realm of Gastonia has done what humans do best: expand, invent, and outsource. A strict class structure leaves the money and the clout to a select few families. The church hierarchy takes the side of rich oppressors. Wizards are wrecking the kobold pelt market, while budding inventors find ways to live without magic and to piss off Elves. The current system stifles the small business man – in this case, the solo adventurer. What's an unemployed team of butt-kickers to do in such hard times? Get a government job, band together, and represent Gastonian interests at the point of a sword, if necessary!

Guilded Age is more than just some World of WarCraft pun. T Campbell, Erica Henderson, and Phil Khan have padded their world with just enough of the standard roleplaying tropes to make their characters immediately identifiable and welcoming. Elves and gnomes, thieves and meat shields—all present and accounted for. Once the reader settles in, the story takes a sharp turn off into uncharted territory!

UNTERZAKHN GRAPHIC NOVEL

SCHOCKEN BOOKS

In Unterzakhn (Yiddish for "Underthings") Leela Corman, one of top "indie creators" working today, has combined the storytelling of a Saul Bellow novel with the feel of reading your daily comic fix from the newspaper.

Corman brings to life the lives of twin sisters Esther and Fanya as they grow up as immigrants in New York's Lower East Side in the 1910s, a place where life's lessons are learned way too soon and often in unpleasant ways.

She shows you twin wide-eyed little girls absorbing the sights and sounds of a neighborhood of struggling immigrants, then as teenagers taking their own tentative steps into the wider world, and finally as adults fighting for their own piece of a land that's supposed to be paved with gold.

Unterzakhn and the story of these two girls is a must read by a top female creator with strong female protagonists a prefect book to order as PREVIEWS promotes Women in Comics in its January 2012 issue.
